

Scottish Songs

Scotland My Home

O Scotland my home, my land , my love , my own,
Your seeds of life are sown evermore,
And proud I'll always be that I was born of thee
Forever, old Scotland my home
O Scotland the free, this land sae dear tae me
It's where I long to be evermore;
So brightly burns the flame, in dreams I call your name;
I love you old Scotland, my home

Chorus

*I know I've travelled far across the sea,
But I know where my heart will always be.*

O Scotland, I pray, that I'll return one day
To hear the pipers play just once more.
Then once again I'll be, with friends sae dear tae me
Together, old Scotland my home.

Chorus

O Scotland my home, my land , my love , my own,
Your seeds of life are sown evermore,
And proud I'll always be that I was born of thee
I love you old Scotland, my home;
I love you old Scotland, my home.
